What advice would you give other caregivers in similar circumstances?